DISCOVER LA PIAZZA

Presented by the Italian Cultural Institute of San Francisco, and by Librai in Corso, under the auspices of the Consulate General of Italy in San Francisco and CEPELL – Centro per il libro e la lettura, LA PIAZZA is the first Italian literary festival in San Francisco dedicated to bringing Italy's newest writers to Bay Area audiences and celebrating the country's rich literary tradition, sharing the voices and faces that define our contemporary literary culture.

A UNIQUE AUDIENCE

LA PIAZZA attracts a diversified and engaged combination of people that has been following us over time, as well as a consistently increasing number of new supporters drawn by our public relations efforts. The demographic of our audience has expanded from mostly Italians living abroad and a thriving and historically rooted Italian-American community to a growing number of individuals passionate about the Italian culture.

FOUR DAYS OF IDEAS, ENGAGEMENT & INSPIRATION, WITH AUTHORS FROM ITALY SHOWCASING CONTEMPORARY ITALIAN LITERATURE THROUGH A WIDE RANGE OF GENRES AND FORMS—FROM ESSAYS TO NOVELS, FROM GRAPHIC NOVELS TO MYSTERIES, AND ALL THE WAY TO THE IMAGINATIVE WORLDS OF CHILDREN'S BOOKS.

The festival's guest authors include:

Emanuela Anechoum, Andrea Bajani, Matteo B. Bianchi, Giulia Caminito, Silvia D'Achille, Ann Goldstein, Carlo Lucarelli, Federico Rampini.

Festival information will be available at the Italian Cultural Institute San Francisco, at Libreria Pino, at the COMITES of San Francisco, at the Festival venues, on the website and newsletter, and on social media.

The final program, including authors and dates, will be available online starting March 9, 2026.

DATES & VENUES

The first edition of LA PIAZZA will take place from April 10 to April 13, 2026, across several venues: Italian Cultural Institute of San Francisco, University of California Davis, La Scuola International School, Libreria Pino/Telegraph Hill Books, Club Fugazi.
