PREMIUM DIGITAL PHOTO RETOUCHING

There's an invisible thread that connects art and technology – a thread I've followed since my studies in Painting at the Academy of Fine Arts in Bologna, Italy, and that has continued to guide me through a path of vision, precision, and ongoing evolution.

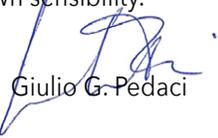

Over the years, my training has expanded through new tools and languages – from studying advertising design and working with local companies, to specializing in image manipulation and color correction for both Italian and foreign clients, thanks to advanced training with leading experts on the world stage.

But it's in the meeting point between creativity and technology that I found my voice. By blending the sensitivity of an artist with the discipline of a photo retoucher, I've built a professional identity that's solid, recognizable, and reliable.

My work ranges from high-end retouching to digital painting and graphic design, always with a focus on balancing aesthetics, emotion, and function.

In the portfolio I'm sharing, each image is a fragment of my journey – a synthesis of experience, intuition, and attentive listening. Clients in the luxury and communication industries rely on me not only for technical quality, but also for my ability to give visual form to ideas and emotions.

I hope that, as you browse through my images, you'll hear an echo that speaks to your own sensibility.
