AMALFI DRIVE

The Amalfi drive is said to be the most spectacular in Europe and from Sorrento the winding cliff top road offers continuous breathtaking panoramic views. The first stop will be high above Positano, one of the jewels of this coastline built on different levels from the main road all the way down to sea like a “waterfall cascading down the rocks”. Further along the coast, the coach makes a refreshment stop where you can admire the local ceramics in a traditional shop and enjoy panoramic views before going on to the town of Amalfi, which gives its name to the whole coast on which it lies. Once a thriving Marine Republic along with Genoa, Pisa and Venice and now a thriving holiday resort, this ancient town is dominated by the magnificent 9th century Cathedral where the

HERCULANEUM

Herculaneum was an ancient Roman town situated in the shadow of Mount Vesuvius, submerged under a torrent of mud and lava after Mount Vesuvius eruption in 79 AD. The buildings have been so well preserved that you can walk down the streets pretty much exactly as the Romans would have done over 2000 years ago! There are still original timbers in the buildings and clay pots stored as they would have been at the time of the eruption. Together with your guide, you'll visit many of the most important sites, public baths with their well-preserved frescoes and

POMPEII

● Following the eruption of the volcano Vesuvius in the year 79 A.D., Pompeii lay buried for hundreds of years. The town is one of the most visited sites in the world and the excavations, begun in the 18th century, are still being carried out today. Your local guide will take you back in time to explore the main features of the ancient city destroyed by the eruption of Vesuvius in 79 AD: the original Roman streets, ancient shops, the villas and baths with their fabulously preserved frescoes and mosaics and the centre of roman life - the Forum. Even if your interests
